

Andy Samberg and The Roots Get Their Groove On

By REBECCA

Friday, October 11, 2009

"SNL's" Andy Samberg and The Roots (who also serve as the house band for "Late Night With Jimmy Fallon") are taking a break from their evening gigs to kick it with the "Yo Gabba Gabba!" gang on Nick Jr. this week.

On Monday, October 12, The Roots will perform an original song called "Lovely, Love My Family." Get a sneak preview of the happy little ditty:

<http://omg.yahoo.com/videos/the-roots-perform-lovely-love-my-family>

And on Tuesday, October 13, Samberg will teach the "Yo Gabba Gabba!" crew a new Dancey Dance called the Alligator Chomp. Watch the funnyman bust a move below:

<http://omg.yahoo.com/videos/andy-samberg-does-the-alligator-chomp>

Look for hip-hop legend Biz Markie to also make a few appearances this week during his recurring segment, "Biz's Beat of the Day," where he teaches preschoolers how to beat box!

Nick Jr.'s "Yo Gabba Gabba!" airs Monday-Friday at 1 p.m. ET.